CHAIRMAN'S MESSAGE

Grease was the word in 1978 on the release of the film with Olivia Newton-John, John Travolta, Stockard Channing and other notables. We could not wait here in Cayman for it to come to our little movie theatre, and the excitement now waiting for the musical at the Prospect Playhouse is no less electrifying!..... and here we are! The most successful movie musical of all time, who can forget Summer Nights or Hopelessly Devoted to You!

Obviously a very popular musical on stage too, tickets went on sale in late March with nights selling out during the first few weeks. Hats off to Director Matthew Pellow who brings a world of experience to CDS—we certainly hope that we will see him around involved in the theatre for many years to come. We are so happy he is back home in Cayman and contributing to our mission to educate, enrich and entertain! Again, Sophie Gough has done a stunning job with the choreography in this movement/dance heavy show and welcome back to Simon Donoghue as our Musical Director. Organising and pulling it all together from the business side is again the production duo, Beverly and Andrew Edgington. Thank you all so very much for your hard work and valuable time. Putting on a show of this magnitude is no easy feat. With a cast of 36, working with understudies (doubling up on duties!), learning the steps, the songs, the words.... is a hugely daunting task. Then, just imagine dressing this cast with all the colours, poodle skirts, leather and pink jackets!---well done and thank you to Beverly and Sophie!

One of the most important lessons in theatre is that there are no small parts --- cast and crew come together as one large family. From the Stage Manager--with fabulous Anika Hewitt, to the sound and lighting crew, props crew, backstage crew and all those on stage, everyone has a big part to play. To be a part of a team such as this is not only a learning experience, but also an honour. I would like to thank and welcome not only our stalwart members who are participating but a big thank you and welcome to the new members who are treading our boards for the first time. We hope to see you on stage in the not too distant future.

We need to take a moment to thank Anita Gough and the entire team at Centre Pointe Dance Studio for allowing the production to not only utilise their space but also volunteering staff to work the musical routines. Thank you, thank you, thank you!

On a more somber note, CDS needs your help. In this busy era, we have only a core group of volunteers to assist us with costumes, props, sound, lights, bar, front of house, back stage and on and on. If you have some free time, please do consider CDS as a “second home”. We would love to have you on board! “There Are Worse Things I Could Do”!!!

Thank you cast, crew and band! We really appreciate all that you have put into this amazing show. Thank you for coming tonight and don't forget to Share the Show!

THEATRE MANAGER'S MESSAGE

Some changes are coming this year to the operational side of the Prospect Playhouse. The role of “theatre management” is being divided into three areas: Facilities, Technology and Operations. The Facilities committee takes care of the Playhouse building – ensuring your safety and comfort and that of our actors and crew – everything from changing light bulbs and loo rolls to ensuring a clean and healthy environment. The Technology committee manages stage, office and security technology - lighting, sound, special effects, equipment, computers and so on. In addition, if you want to operate either the sound mixer or lights console, then you will need training and certification from an assigned member of this committee. And finally, the Operations committee provides day-to-day operational support for activities that are necessary for the continued use of the theatre – pest control, accepting deliveries or providing access to third-party maintenance personnel, calendar management, weekday box-office and so on. So what’s in it for you – whatever your age?

If you are not interested in the tech side and can’t manage your daytime to help with operations, consider volunteering an hour a month to help with basic theatre maintenance. Things as simple as doing a check for stuff that is not working or needs replacing – even down to the loo rolls.

If you are interested in learning stage tech craft – lights and sound, special effect design and presentation – we can organize training from the bottom up – simple board operation to support a show; programming a sound or lighting board; maintaining lights; lighting design including ladder work; and sound computer programming for a show. Any one of these is a skill that is vital for CDS and fulfilling for you.

Finally, if you can spare time to help with day-to-day operations with short notice, we will be doing a lot of work on cataloguing props and costumes into a database while the Tech people write an App which will allow event crew responsible for these areas to browse online what we have while fitting out a production.

Interested? Please send an email to theatremanager@cds.ky – and thanks for sharing the show

DIRECTOR'S MESSAGE

Although the stage version of Grease is different from the movie, Grease still brings that uncanny ability to find the good in everyone and everything we experience. Especially the life lessons in our teenage years and becoming a young adult. Danny Zuko is a young man that is buried with egotistical expectations from the societal norms and of course from the ones closest to him, his friends. Our leading lady, Sandy Dumbrowski, is a naïve young woman who struggles with finding herself and how she fits within her new school 'Rydell'. The T-Birds & Pink Ladies rule the school with their own quirky intentions and internal conflicts.

Grease is more than just a word, it is the oily or fatty matter that sticks to our public persona's. When we are young we find ourselves projecting what we think we want or desire. When truly, it is within the midst of our oily projections and who we are behind closed doors that we find our true nature. In this case, Danny projects his overly charming, suave and tough persona while closing the door to a vulnerable state of true love. Sandy, confused by these misguided projections begins to challenge her own persona while still being hopelessly devoted to her summer love.

Highschool is less about turning in that term paper and more about personal development. That is why a lot of people who are asked "if you could go back in time to high school, would you?" say "NO!". It is a time where we are beginning to accept or embrace what it means to be both vulnerable and durable. This duality in life is something that we are constantly mastering even as we have our own kids in high school.

Perhaps the most important lesson is in 'We Go Together'. The primary conflict of values that drives the entire plot is distilled in this one number. Representing not only friends and loved ones together but our projected selves combined with our solitary nature will eventually go together and be like one. This is exactly what our Grease Family so eagerly want for each other. With of course, a lot of dip da dips and changity chang shoo bops.

It all started with my incredible Producers - Andrew & Beverly Edgington. I moved back home to Cayman late 2016 and participated in their production of Footloose. Instantly we connected on a professional level in raising the bar for local productions. I said to Beverly, "I want to direct Grease!" and with the exhaustion of producing an intense show such as Footloose asked me to wait until she had a break. But not 24 hours later did she & Andrew reach out to me and request my proposal. I knew from that moment on Grease was going to be on the horizon. These power house producers made it all possible for us and have stood by our side the whole way through. You could say they are the mom and pop of our family.

Developing Excellence and Confidence in Cayman's youth through the Performing Arts!

Next, I had to find my dance choreographer that could whip my cast into shape and show them what Greased Lightning is all about. Miss Sophie Gough from Centre Pointe Dance Studio was my first stop along Thunder Road. Having grown up on island dance classes with Miss Sophie, I knew we would make a show to remember. She explained to me that this show was no easy task; especially with so many male dancers involved. However, like most productions that Miss Sophie has done in the past, smiled at the challenge. With her Dream Team at Centre Pointe Dance Studio we have had the best choreographers assist and shape the movement of Rydell High. Time to Hand Jive!

To sing or not to sing, that was the easiest question of all. I knew from the beginning that I required a live band. This is a 'MUSIC' al after all. There was no doubt in my mind that I wanted the best. Someone who could take strong vocalists and make them even stronger. Mr. Simon Donoghue from St. Ignatius Catholic School was at the very top of my list. After 2 long weeks of waiting for his reply, I thought I may have been aiming too high. But sure enough, the man, the myth, the legend – sent me an email curious to this amazing endeavor. After some malt shop meetings and a little convincing, Mr. Simon agreed to be our Musical Director. With every rehearsal, he has earned the respect and trust of the cast without quarrel. With the assistance of our wonderful vocal coach Miss Emily from JukeBox, we have greased the pipes and are ready for action.

A director is nothing without their cast and crew. I am truly blessed to have a supporting crew like Miss Anika Hewitt (Stage Manager) and an absolutely talented cast. From the auditions, I knew that I had found the treasures I was looking for. From loud and proud to sly and shy – I knew that we were going to make a record breaking show here at the Cayman Drama Society.

PRODUCERS' MESSAGE

This time last year we were in the middle of launching Footloose when Matthew Pellow approached us to discuss a possible show he would like to direct and would we be interested in being the Producers? To be honest our initial thoughts were “give us a break” but then Matthew uttered that one magical word GREASE, and we were hooked! I was 11 when Grease the movie was launched in the UK (please don't spend time working out just how old I am!) and remember that from the opening bars I was smitten. We all dreamed of being Sandy and meeting our Danny. Girls dreamed of making it into the Pink Ladies as boys practiced their T Bird swagger! We can all remember the iconic lines (“Tell me about it Stud!”), the clothes (everyone wanted skin tight black pants), the songs (too many to list but Hopelessly Devoted ranks in my favourites) and the friendships formed over whether we loved Danny or Kenickie more.

Roll forward to 2018, and the 40th Anniversary of Grease and what a perfect way to celebrate such an iconic Movie and Musical by bringing it alive on the CDS stage. The call was put out for auditions and we were blown away. Such talented individuals, of all ages, wanted to be part of this phenomenon and so choosing our cast was just the start. To each and everyone of our 36 member cast (yes you read that correctly) we thank you for the hard work and hours and hours of rehearsal time you have given. For picking up a paintbrush, for sourcing props, for assisting with costumes. We have worked together, played together, sung together, danced together, supported each other through highs and lows and now it is your time to shine! Being part of such a large cast and crew friendships have evolved and we know that they will last way past closing night of a show. “We Go Together” could have been written for this talented cast, crew and production team.

Special mentions and thank you's to our Production Team. Matthew you have lead from the front, inspired and motivated us all from Day One. Your professionalism shines through and you truly epitomize the ethos of CDS by Enriching, Entertaining and Educating on a daily basis. You have shared your thoughts, dreams, passions and vision for Grease and we are so excited to be sat beside you as your “baby” comes alive. A huge thank you to our Musical Director Simon Donoghue (assisted by Miss Ems) who has not only coaxed, cajoled and impressed on our cast his own wonderful high expectations but also encouraged, motivated and reassured those less confident in their ability. Getting 36 people to sing in harmony is no mean feat yet Simon makes it look like a walk in the park. Thank you also for putting together our amazing Band who are a major part of our show and set. Remember, Grease isn't just about the singing, there is an awful lot of movement involved and we would not be seeing such a spectacular performance tonight if it wasn't for the unending support of Sophie Gough and her team of choreographers from Centre Pointe Dance Studio. Long hours of practice, practice and more practice was required. CPDS not only generously opened their doors for us to rehearse but also offered as many extra dance lessons as our cast wanted and needed. We cannot thank you enough for your love and support for the show.

Finally, to those who work in the background and who don't share the spot light we thank you. Kirsty O'Sullivan who works alongside the Producers and keeps us on track, thank you. To Peter Pasold, Bill Mervyn and Adam Pellow who worked with Matthew to create the amazing set. To all our set painters and decorators but especially Alex Heaven-Wren and India Dawson-James. To Sophie for her assistance in all things set and costume related. To Alanna Warwick-Smith for Props and finally Anika Hewitt and her back stage crew. We simply could not do these shows without you.

From reading all of this you will realize that producing a show such as Grease is no easy job. We want to send a special thank you to Mark Lewis and the whole team at Icoa Enoteca whose generous sponsorship of the show has meant we have been able to bring our dreams to reality.

And with that, sit back, enjoy, sing, clap, dance in the aisles, and remember that Grease is the word, It's got groove, it's got meaning, it's the time, is the place, is the motion and Grease is the way we are feeling

CAST – The Tempest

Cayman Drama Society is delighted to welcome, for the third consecutive year, The Cambridge University American Stage Tour, The 2018 season sees The Tempest, a tale of shipwreck and magic. By inviting CAST to join us we are able to pursue our mission to Enrich, Entertain and Educate by holding workshops in local schools. English and drama students across the Island get to meet and interact with cast and crew as a true passion for Shakespeare is experienced and live theatre introduced.

We would like to thank Walkers for their generous sponsorship of the CAST visit which enables us to provide the schools outreach program as well as a specific schools matinee performance.

CAST will perform The Tempest at the Prospect Playhouse on 24, 25 & 26 September. More details will be available on www.cds.ky.

*“I long
To hear the story of your life, which must Take the ear strangely...”*

Sixteen years of waiting. Three thousand miles to cross. One story, waiting to be told.

Prospero has waited through years and across oceans. The loss of her Dukedom in Milan and the betrayal of her brother cannot go unpunished. But as the storms of old politics rise again, lovers take their first embrace and fools plot murder, the clock is ticking - and for Prospero to succeed even spirits above and monsters below must have what they desire.

Gather around our light, and let us tell you the story of Prospero's life.

MESSAGE FROM CURTAIN CALL BAR

Although the students of Rydell High are not old enough to imbibe maybe you are? When taking over the running of the Curtain Call Bar a few years ago I decided to introduce a “Cocktail of The Show” and since then the bar crew have taken great fun in creating new pleasures for you to enjoy! So sit back and sip our Pink Lady Champagne Cocktail or maybe you would prefer to try the more manly Jack Daniels TBird? Whichever or whatever you chose, remember that thanks to our generous sponsors and amazing volunteers we can remain the coolest and cheapest little bar in town!

And if you see how much fun we’re having maybe you’d like to come and join us too? We are always looking for help with Bar and Front of House. Just send me an email and I’ll look forward to you “joining the gang”!

At Butterfield, through sponsorships, donations and employee volunteerism, we are proud to support initiatives and organisations that are working to enrich the quality of the lives of the people in our community.

Dedicated to encouraging talent and inspiration, we are a proud sponsor of the Cayman Drama Society and the performing arts.

The Ministry of Culture congratulates the Cayman Drama Society on another great production. The arts connect, unify and inspire both audience and actors and we thank you for serving as an outlet for our people's creativity.
